Who is Behind Harrier Central?

Opee and Tuna Melt both started Hashing in San Diego over 33 years ago. We met at SDH3, got married and moved to North Carolina where we brought two hash horrors into the world. We followed Hash friends to move to the Netherlands in 2005 and have been in London since 2023.

In 2019, Opee started developing Harrier Central as a hobby to keep his IT skills sharp. It's been Tuna's job to keep him on task.

What is Done with Your Information?

All kidding aside, we have no nefarious intentions. We are merely Hashers trying to help other Hashers. We will NEVER sell your data or profit off of the Hash. Frankly, please feel free to use a fake first and last name and/or email address to set up your account unless you are the Harrier Central SUPER ADMIN for your Kennel, in which case we need REAL contact information in order to communicate with you.

How Secure is My Data?

We're all concerned about security of our personal data in the cloud. For those of you who use Harrier Central, we have good news. Our first and most important principle is simple: we don't collect any data we don't need; this way there's nothing valuable to steal. Beyond that we have taken other steps to ensure Harrier Central data is secure, including using a commercial grade cloud platform (Microsoft Azure, and it ain't cheap). Please feel free to reach out to us if you have any questions related to Harrier Central security (see last slide).

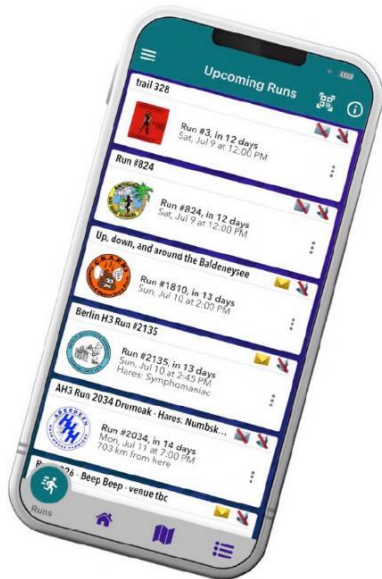

And For You Geeks...

Instead of using virtual machines, we use a 100% “serverless architecture” which means all of our custom code runs on infrastructure that is fully protected, patched and maintained by Microsoft. Network security is also important, and for this you can feel comfortable that all network connections between our cloud platform and the app are bi-directionally secured using TLS 1.2 (the successor to SSL). Finally, there are additional steps we take to ensure that our technology is tamper-proof that we will not detail here as this could give hackers a “leg up” in defeating our system. In the end, the most important thing to know is that to hack into our system would be much more expensive than the value of the data contained within it, so we are a very small and uninteresting target indeed.

Accessing Existing Account

Please ask Mismanagement for your INVITE CODE or click to request one via email. Please note that if you provide a fake email address but your Mismanagement used your real address (or vice versa), then our system won't be able to find you. In that case, ask Mismanagement for the code and then update your profile details as you wish.
